Child Development Center

This month, we proudly established a Child Development Center in our program village of Segva, with the inauguration led by Sugandha Sinha from Cotton Connect Farmer Community Foundation. At this center, we are providing education to children of migrant labourers, ages 3 to 14, many of whom have dropped out or never attended school due to the challenges of migration. We tailor our lessons to their age and needs, empowering them with the knowledge and skills to become stronger and more resilient.

Gender Education

This month, we successfully completed the Foundation course of our Gender Education program at Bhankodar, Bherai, and Mota Machiyala. We also wrapped up the endline survey for all beneficiary adolescents and are now moving forward to the Action course. In the Action course, we have already completed three modules with great success. Additionally, in Piplava village, we completed five modules of the Foundation course, further advancing our mission to empower and educate.

Center for Learning Assistance

This month, Under the guidance of our mentors, students engaged in a variety of exciting activities. They took part in a kite-making competition to celebrate the Kite Festival, commemorated Republic Day with enthusiasm, and explored design and construction by crafting farming tools, airplanes, and more from wooden sticks. These activities go beyond being mere extracurricular—they play a key role in nurturing future innovators. By encouraging hands-on learning, we're helping students develop critical thinking, problem-solving skills, and creativity, all of which are essential for shaping tomorrow's leaders.
